Amendments to the Specification:

Please replace the title beginning at page 1, line 1 with the following amended title:

Methods of Making Multi-layer Light Emitting Devices

Please delete previous abstract at page 33 and add the following new abstract:

Methods of making multi-layer light-emitting devices and related components and systems are disclosed. The light-emitting devices can include a layer of reflective material bonded with a layer of p-doped material. The reflective material can be capable of reflecting at least about 50% of light generated by a light-generating region that impinges on the layer of reflective material.
